Due to a pre-press production error beyond the control of the Ako for School Board campaign the attribution in the combined edition of Iowa Bystander and El Comunicador published September 5, 2003, for the advertisement purchased by the campaign was not included. The Iowa Ethics and Campaign Disclosure Board has been made aware of the situation and instructed our publication to include the following to close out the matter.

I mistakenly sent flyers without the proper "paid for by" disclaimer during the primary election. I apologize for any confusion this may have caused. Gerald Brees. Paid for by Brees for Council, Kay Brees, Treasurer.

During the last election cycle a letter advocating David Lalk's election was distributed that did not state who paid for it. The costs of the mailing were paid for by the Republican Party of Iowa.

An advertisement ran on 10/29/03 stating Larry Wagner for write-in Candidate, lacked an attribution statement.

The advertisement was paid for by Larry Wagner, 1204 N. Chestnut, Creston, Iowa.

School Board campaign flyers should have read,

"Paid for by committee to elect Gwen Lewis."

— Gwen Seward Lewis

A Political Flyer was distributed advocating the support of

Paul Parr for Mayor
Rick Davis for Council Person
Cindy Johnson for Council Person
Mark Livermore for Council Person and did not contain an attribution statement.

The flyer was in fact paid for by:
Mary Davis
702 Cedar Street
Castana, IA 51010

This notice was paid for by Mary Davis, 702 Cedar Street, Castana, Ia 51010

Do to an omission in the Sat. 10/18 Cedar Falls Times the ad for Tom Hagarty for Mayor did not run with the attribution line paid for by Tom Hagarty for Mayor Committee.

R367 NOTICE

In July of 2001 flyers for my City Council Campaign did not state who paid the $14 cost. I paid for them.
